Personal Statement

I am passionate about all areas of design, computers and the Internet. I have a background in education and am skilled at communicating complex ideas using exciting images.

I see my major strengths being my efficiency and adaptability. I am extremely organised and am able to work on a number of projects simultaneously.

Career History

Freelance Illustrator

Since October 2006, I have worked as an illustrator and created a large portfolio of vector illustrations and fractal backgrounds. My portfolio can be seen at the link below:

Web Designer

I first learned how to create websites back in 1997. Some of sites that I have created can be seen at the link below. These sites have been hand coded using Crimson Editor (a text editor). The graphics were produced using Paintshop Pro and Illustrator CS3.

Education / Qualifications

I hold the following qualifications:

- Bachelor of Science Degree - Auckland University (1997)
- Certificate in an International Language (New Zealand Sign Language, 1997)
- Teaching Diploma - Auckland College of Education (1998)

Notable Achievements

One of my designs featured on the Auckland White Pages 2009.

I was a finalist in the Air NZ bag design contest (December 2008) ... but I did not win. The doves got recycled ...

... and they currently feature in an artwork that graces the Middle School Learning Centre at Kristin School (the building was officially opened in 2009). The printed version is roughly 2m wide.
